

(Senior) Consultant Strategic Development

Due to the e-commerce revolution, the parcel delivery market is growing and innovating rapidly. Headquartered in Amsterdam, GLS is one of the major players in this growth market. As (Senior) Consultant Strategic Development you will support the expansion of GLS' leading position in the industry and support shaping the future of the company.

In this role you will be responsible for:

- Leading and supporting cross-functional and strategic projects on group level or in specific countries. Typical projects include identifying and mapping new growth opportunities, creating market strategies and evaluating the development of GLS
- Identifying, analyzing and evaluating critical business decisions to develop actionable recommendations, and to drive the development and implementation of GLS' strategic initiatives
- Following market developments, industry trends, competitors and consumer behavior that are critical to the development of the GLS strategy
- Supporting the GLS Executive Board in the day-to-day management of the business and strategy execution, providing information, insight and pro-actively supporting the governance processes

To succeed in this role, you should have the following skills and experience:

- Academic degree with 2-5 years' work experience in consulting, corporate strategy, business development or corporate strategic planning
- Strong attention to detail and good planning and numerical skills
- Pro-active and hands-on way of working
- Ability to assimilate large volumes of complex information quickly and accurately to provide insight
- Excellent written communications skills, with ability to identify and present key points concisely
- Highly credible, with ability to work collaboratively and quickly establish respect from peers and senior managers
- Fluency in English, both written and verbal. Another European language is an advantage

What we offer

We offer a full-time position in an informal, dynamic and professional working environment with low hierarchy levels and scope for personal development. You will be part of a small international team and work closely together with the executive board and top management of the GLS Group. Furthermore, we offer a healthy work-life balance and the possibility to travel abroad. As well as your fixed salary, you'll receive an attractive bonus scheme, phone and laptop, holiday up to 30 days and the possibility to work from home.
